

SenSource is First Valley Business to Join HandsOn for Corporate Responsibility Program

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

YOUNGSTOWN, OH, JUNE 17, 2011 - SenSource, Inc has partnered with the HandsOn Volunteer Network of the Valley (HOVN) in an effort to give back to the city of Youngstown. SenSource will designate four days a year during regular business hours for employees to take part in worthy community service projects coordinated through HOVN.

Kristy Boyles, Manager at HOVN explains, "SenSource was the first business in the Valley to seek out HandsOn to discover how it could get involved with local service initiatives. They came to us driven by a desire to give back to the neighborhoods in which they do business."

May marked the kick-off of the corporate volunteer projects for SenSource as four employees, including President Joe Varacalli, joined Habitat for Humanity of Mahoning County for a day of home construction.

"Habitat was a great first project for us! We rolled up our sleeves and hung siding and plywood and helped with framing the interior of the house. Not only were we helping a great cause, it was a team building experience," explains Jessica Sferra, Marketing Coordinator.

"Since founded, SenSource has been active in donating and participating in the Mahoning Valley. Now, we're getting employees involved in the community with corporate volunteer days."

Boyles adds, "Encouraged by SenSource's success, and the history of success that corporate responsibility programs typically show, HandsOn welcomes local businesses to contact us at (330) 782-5877 for more information about how they can make a difference in our community."

SenSource, Inc. is a privately-held technology company providing a variety of modular people and vehicle traffic monitoring systems along with environmental sensing devices since 2002. SenSource is a recipient of numerous Mahoning Valley Growth Awards and is ranked in the top 30% of the 2010 Inc 5000, Inc Magazine's list of America's fast growing companies.
